Navin Shenoy
Vice President, Sales and Marketing Group
General Manager, Asia-Pacific Region
INTEL CORPORATION

Navin Shenoy is vice president of the Sales and Marketing Group and general manager for Intel Corporation in Asia-Pacific. He is responsible for all sales, marketing and enabling of Intel products in the region, excluding Japan and China.

Prior to assuming his current role, Shenoy was for 3 years the technical assistant to Paul Otellini, Intel's president and CEO. In this role he assisted Otellini in the development and implementation of Intel's long-term corporate strategy and the daily management of Intel's global business.

Shenoy joined Intel in 1995 and spent several years in a range of roles within Intel's sales and marketing organization, including: regional solutions manager for Southeast Asia, a Singapore-based role in which he was responsible for end-user, ISV and service provider engagements; Northern California district manager for Intel Online Services; and account manager for Toshiba America.

Shenoy graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and attended the Stanford Executive Program.
